Multi-team support:

- Manage unlimited teams
 - Quick team switching
 - Separate history per team
 - Team-specific settings

Practice Generation

4. Session Types

Four optimized practice templates

Balanced Session (Most Common):

- Use: Regular practice, no specific focus
- Mix: Warmup → Technical → SSG → Cool Down
- Intensity: Medium overall
- Drill count: 5-6
- Perfect for: Typical Tuesday/Thursday practices

Technical Focus Session:

- Use: Skills development priority
- Mix: Warmup → Technical → Technical → Cool Down
- Intensity: Low-Medium
- Drill count: 5-6
- Perfect for: Early season, skill building

Game Prep Session:

- Use: 1-2 days before match
- Mix: Warmup → Tactical → SSG → Cool Down
- Intensity: Medium-High
- Drill count: 4-5

- Perfect for: Thursday before Saturday match

Fitness Session:

- Use: Conditioning focus
- Mix: Warmup → Fitness → Fitness → Cool Down
- Intensity: High
- Drill count: 4-5
- Perfect for: Pre-season, mid-season conditioning

Custom Session:

- Manual drill selection
 - Full control over categories
 - Advanced/Expert mode only

5. Intensity Curve Management

Automatically balances practice intensity

How it works:

- Starts low (warmup)
- Builds to medium (technical work)
- Peaks high (games/competition)
- Returns to medium (more games)
- Ends low (cool down)

Visual representation:

- Chart showing intensity over time
- Clear intensity labels per drill
- Proper progression for safety

Benefits:

- Prevents injuries (proper warmup)
- Maximizes engagement (peak at right time)
- Proper recovery (cool down)

- Professional structure

6. Category Balancing

Ensures well-rounded practices

10 Drill Categories:

1. Warmup - Dynamic movement prep
2. Technical - Ball skills, first touch
3. Passing - Patterns, combinations
4. Possession - Keep-away, rondos
5. Tactical - Team shape, positioning
6. Defending - 1v1, team defending
7. Small-Sided Games - 4v4, 5v5, etc.
8. Scrimmage - Match simulation
9. Fitness - Conditioning, speed
10. Cool Down - Recovery, stretching

Auto-balancing:

- Ensures variety across categories
 - Suggests underused categories
 - Avoids over-concentration
 - Maintains development breadth

7. Recency Tracking

Keeps practices fresh automatically

How it works:

- Tracks every drill used
- Labels drills by recency:
 -  New - Never used before
 -  Fresh - Not used in 14+ days
 -  Neutral - Used 7-14 days ago

-  Recent - Used in last 7 days

Auto-avoidance:

- Hides drills used in last 7 days (configurable)
- Prioritizes fresh drills
- Suggests variety

User control:

- Settings → Practice Defaults → Hide Recent Drills
 - Can override if needed
 - View recency labels on all drills

8. Focus Area Matching

Prioritizes drills aligned with team goals

How it works:

1. Set focus areas in Team Profile (e.g., "First touch", "Defending 1v1")
2. Generate practice
3. AI prioritizes drills with matching tags
4. Drills labeled "Matched focus tag: First touch"

Benefits:

- Systematic skill development
- Aligned with team goals
- Clear focus each session
- Trackable progress

Example:

Team Focus Areas:

- First touch
- Quick passing
- Building from back

Generated Practice:

✓ First Touch Control (Technical)

"Matched focus tag: First touch"

✓ Quick Passing Diamond (Passing)

"Matched focus tag: Quick passing"

✓ Build-Up Play 4v2 (Tactical)

"Matched focus tag: Building from back"
